Announcements

Bedtime Story Day – is THIS Friday! This is a day to celebrate your child's reading success. Students will be allowed to wear their pajamas, nightgowns, robes and slippers! Please send your child to school with their tennis shoes ready for PE. They can change into their slippers after specials. Children may bring their own favorite books labeled with their name, a flashlight and blanket. We will make our own pillows, listen to guest readers and many other fun activities. The kiddos are so excited about this fun day

Ms. Nelson – will be stopping in for a visit on Thursday and will join us for the early part of Bedtime Story Day. Her first official day will be this Monday, January 25th. Please join me in welcoming her to our class. ~~~ "Hello! My name is Alissa Nelson and I am so excited to be student teaching in Mrs. Martin's first grade class. I attend Texas State University and will graduate this May. After graduation, I hope to have a wonderful classroom of my own where I can make a positive impact on my students. I am thrilled to be working with your children and look forward to learning and growing with them. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to ask!" ~~~
