Miss Cobio's Corner

I have started teaching lessons in our classroom. We've gone over identifying coins, cross checking their reading, safety tips, and so much more. These last few lessons have been my first times teaching, and I have to say it has been challenging. Overall, they have been interesting experiences and I have a better understanding of what to expect. I am looking forward to teaching this week's lesson and planning future ones as well!

Announcements

Mark Your Calendars – Our first field trip is scheduled for Thursday, October 13th. If you wish to attend please be sure to complete this 2016-2017's Volunteer Application form at <https://roundrockisd.org/volunteer/>. This application needs to be renewed every school year. Permission Slips will be going out next week. Thank you for your support!

Homework – First grade requires at least 15 minutes of reading each evening. Reading logs will go home this weekend. Other than that, enjoy time together! We work hard here every day, so you can play hard at home. Go for a walk, cook dinner together, make a card for a neighbor, or solve math problems you make up – make memories!

Science Rotations – Ask your child about visiting other 1st grade teachers and classrooms for Science this week. Each teacher is excited to get to know each other's classes and share a fun and exciting science lesson. This round of rotations is hitting on predicting and identifying changes in materials caused by heating and cooling. So far we have popped popcorn with Mrs. Ogle and made ice cream with Ms. Moracco. Fun things are expected with Mrs. Crudup and Ms. Smith the next few days.

Conferences – will begin Monday, October 10th! The purpose of fall conferences is to go over your child's work, discuss his/her strengths, plan goals for the year, and discuss any questions you may have. I have e-mailed and sent home my availabilities. Reminders will be sent out next week.
